It is my pleasure to present the Tax Expenditure Report, a responsibility assigned to the Tax Commissioner by the Ohio Revised Code (Sections 107.03 and 5703.48). This report makes possible an ongoing review of state tax expenditures. It is a companion piece to the Governor's Executive Budget.

This report includes 128 tax expenditures allowed in current law, entailing various exclusions, exemptions, deductions and credits. It proves the amount of state General Revenue Funds tax revenue estimated to be foregone from each expenditure during the current biennium (fiscal year 2014 and 2015) and upcoming biennium (fiscal years 2016 and 2107). The report does not address the merits of those exemptions. Nonetheless, it fosters a better understanding of the curent tax system and stands as an important resource for those making decisions about Ohio's tax policy.

Sincerely,

Introduction

State of Ohio Tax Expenditure Report

Section 5703.48 of the Ohio Revised Code, enacted in 1987, requires the tax commissioner to produce a tax expenditure report. Section 107.03(F) of the Ohio Revised Code requires the Governor to submit the report to the Ohio General Assembly as an appendix to the biennial budget. The report provides a description of each tax expenditure, an estimate of the dollars unavailable (or “revenue foregone”) to the General Revenue Fund (GRF) because of the tax expenditure, and, in comparative form, the amount of revenues that were unavailable to the GRF in the immediately preceding biennium.

Both tax expenditures and direct budgetary expenditures result in a cost to the state. The tax expenditure concept considers tax laws to be a mechanism for both government revenues and spending. Tax expenditures take the form of tax benefits for certain taxpayers or activities. Unlike direct budgetary expenditures, unless there is a pre-existing termination date, tax expenditures may remain in law indefinitely.

An important purpose of this report is to inform the state budgetary process of revenues foregone to the GRF because of tax expenditures. This report provides an estimate of the dollar value of each tax expenditure, but it makes no recommendations on the appropriateness of these expenditures.

In this edition, estimated revenue foregone by the GRF is provided for the following two fiscal year (FY) biennial budget periods: FY 2014-2015 and FY 2016-2017. This edition includes 128 different tax expenditures and provides the legal citation, year of enactment, and a brief description for each tax expenditure.¹ In certain limited instances, tax expenditures affecting multiple taxes may be displayed under one tax.²

The Tax Expenditure Concept

Since the tax expenditure concept was first articulated in 1967 by Stanley S. Surrey (assistant secretary for tax policy of the U.S. Department of the Treasury), the executive and legislative branches of the U.S. government, most state governments, and many foreign governments have issued their own versions of tax expenditure reports. In its broadest outline, the tax expenditure concept is uniform and constant: a tax expenditure represents a legislated variation from – more commonly, a reduction to – a standardized tax base. Beyond this broad conceptualization, however, varying ideas about what constitutes a tax expenditure have led to differing approaches for identifying tax expenditures. In a sense, tax expenditure reports are evolutionary in nature, changing as members of the tax policy community absorb, synthesize, and contribute new thinking on the subject.

At the federal level, the Joint Committee on Taxation (JCT) of the Congress is vested with the privilege of publishing a report on federal tax expenditures for the House Committee on Ways and Means and the Senate Committee on Finance.³ According to JCT, “Tax expenditure analysis can help both policymakers and the public to understand the actual size of government, the uses to which government resources are put, and the tax and economic policy consequences that follow from the implicit or explicit choices made in fashioning legislation.”⁴ The JCT consults with the Office of Tax Analysis in the U.S. Department of the Treasury to produce the report.⁵ The JCT’s first report was prepared in 1972 covering FY 1967-1971, and subsequent reports cover every five-year period since FY 1977-1981.⁶

² Job creation and retention tax credits are shown in the commercial activity tax section, though these credits also may be taken against the petroleum activity tax, the insurance premium taxes, the financial institutions tax, and the individual income tax.

³ The complete collection of JCT tax expenditure reports is available at <https://www.jct.gov/publications.html?func=select&id=5>. For an international perspective, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) has studied the use of tax expenditures internationally, including in the United States. Introduction

Forty-one states produce a tax expenditure report.⁷ There is variation among the states on what are considered tax expenditures (and, by extension, implied “baseline” tax structures).⁸ Ultimately, the variation stems from a fundamental ambiguity in tax expenditure analysis: the lack of a universally applicable and accepted definition of “tax expenditure” sufficiently robust in meaning for it to be used by all jurisdictions and for all taxes. As a result, each reporting agency has to apply an operating definition of tax expenditure with analytical utility for that agency and its administration, as well as legislative policymakers and the wider tax policy audience within that jurisdiction.⁹

Tax Expenditures in this Report

Ohio uses what may be considered a mostly “reference law” concept for defining tax expenditures. However, it is necessarily informed by the “ideal base” (baseline) concept.¹⁰ The primary determinant as to whether a tax provision may be considered a tax expenditure in this report is whether it exists as an exemption, credit, deduction, etc., in the Ohio Revised Code. This determination conforms to a reference law concept. Of this initial list of potential tax expenditures, certain provisions – those considered to be inherent to the tax base – are then excluded, reflecting elements of a “baseline” concept. A primary example of an item excluded from the report is the sales tax “resale” exemption (see discussion in the Sales and Use Tax Section of the report). Another example is the commercial activity tax exclusion for non-profit entities.

Listed below are the basic criteria used to determine whether a tax provision constitutes a tax expenditure in this report. All four characteristics must exist for the item to have been considered a tax expenditure in this report.

1. The item reduces, or has the potential to reduce, one of the state's General Revenue Fund taxes.

By law, the tax expenditure report includes only taxes the revenues from which are distributed in whole or in part to the GRF. Therefore, locally-levied taxes are excluded from this report. Also excluded are certain state taxes the revenues from which are not distributed to the GRF. Such excluded taxes include the motor vehicle fuel tax, horse racing tax, and the severance tax.

2. The item would have been part of the defined tax base.

For a provision to be a tax expenditure, it specifically must exempt from taxation a person or activity that otherwise would have been part of the tax base. There are some items specifically exempted by the Ohio Revised Code that are not considered to be part of the tax base. These items are not included as tax expenditures in this report.

3. The item is not subject to an alternative tax.

Persons or activities subject to alternative taxes are not considered tax expenditures in this report. For example, insurance companies are excluded from the commercial activity tax under the Ohio Revised Code, but this exclusion is not considered a tax expenditure because insurance companies are taxed under the insurance premium taxes.

⁷E.g., Jason Levitis, Nicholas Johnson & Jeremy Koulisch, State Budget Accountability Through Tax Expenditure Reports, State Tax Notes, May 25, 2009, at 641.

⁸*Id.* at 655.

⁹Some agencies work under a statutorily prescribed definition of “tax expenditure.” Even though these agencies comply with the statutory definition in good faith and to the maximum extent possible, there is no statutory definition with sufficient nuance and logic to guide all determinations. The agencies must develop an operating definition of tax expenditure and use reasonable judgment to determine the items that fit the definition.

¹⁰See, e.g., John L. Mikesell, Tax Expenditure Budgets, Budget Policy, and Tax Policy: Confusion in the States, 22 Public Budgeting and Finance 34, 43 (2002).

Introduction

4. The item is subject to change by state legislative action.

The item must take the form of an exemption, deduction, credit, etc., existing in the Ohio Revised Code. Anything that can be changed purely by a state constitutional amendment, a federal law change, or a federal constitutional amendment is not considered a tax expenditure in this report.

Tax expenditures are organized in this report by tax types. Several taxes that appeared in previous editions have been eliminated, and a new tax has been added to this edition. Am. Sub. House Bill 510 (129th General Assembly) repealed the corporate franchise tax (as well as the dealers in intangibles tax) beginning in 2014 and levied a new “financial institutions tax.” As a result, this report replaced the corporate franchise tax section with a financial institutions tax section. Am. Sub. House Bill 153 (129th General Assembly; FY 2012-2013 operating budget) repealed the Ohio estate tax effective with dates of death on or after January 1, 2013. Consequently, the Ohio estate tax section of this report was eliminated.

Although revenue from the natural gas distribution tax is distributed to the GRF, there are no tax expenditures related to this tax; therefore, the tax does not appear in this report. Some tax expenditures apply to more than one tax. In most of these instances, the effects are combined into one tax so as not to be repetitive.¹¹

Interpretation of Tax Expenditures

Tax policy experts have identified nuanced ways to evaluate tax expenditures.¹² On one hand, because tax expenditures provide an explicit accounting of deviations from a baseline tax structure, users of a tax expenditure report are able to identify deviations from a baseline, who benefits, and the relative fiscal magnitudes. The report may serve as a foundation for further analysis on whether, and to what degree, an expenditure violates principles of good tax policy (e.g., efficiency, fairness, simplicity, uniformity). To one degree or another, tax expenditures might reduce economic efficiency, heighten tax code complexity, or treat people with the same ability to pay in a disparate or inequitable manner.

Tax expenditures often are viewed as an appropriate mechanism for spending government resources. Under this viewpoint, the tax system can serve as an instrument for reallocating resources or otherwise addressing economic inefficiencies. Thus, the tax expenditure report identifies the specific circumstances under which policymakers have chosen to allocate state resources through the tax code, so as to fully or partially address a perceived societal need or want. According to this conceptualization, then, the question is whether the “spending” is appropriate and not necessarily whether it violates a tax policy principle.

Quantifying Tax Expenditures

In accordance with section 5703.48 of the Ohio Revised Code, the FY 2016-2017 Biennial Tax Expenditure Report identifies the estimated revenue that is foregone, or “spent,” by the GRF as a result of the existence of a tax expenditure under current law. The estimates reflect the amount of financial benefit provided to those persons or activities by the tax expenditure, adjusted to reflect the GRF’s share of the tax expenditure. No further adjustments are made to the estimates, except where another tax expenditure is also available to the taxpayer for the same item or activity. The report reduces one, but not both, of the overlapping tax expenditures by the estimated amount of tax revenue associated with the “overlap.”

There are other methods to quantify tax expenditures including estimating revenues that would be gained if the tax expenditure were repealed. The tax expenditures in this report are not quantified using methods other than “revenue foregone.” Estimates produced under a “revenue gain from repeal” concept encompass an extensive array of (primarily downward) adjustments. For one thing, “revenue gain from repeal” estimates require assumptions by the agency about the tax expenditure repeal date. There may be important cash flow consequences associated with assumed repeal dates. Another potentially significant adjustment involves taxpayer behavioral responses to the repealed tax expenditure. Economic activity would likely be affected to some degree as tax is newly applied to the previously tax-exempt item or activity. Furthermore, one may expect at least some short-term taxpayer non-compliance with the newly-taxed activity.

¹¹ For instance, see the job retention tax credit in the Commercial Activity Tax Section (CAT tax expenditure number 4.12). This credit can be taken not only against the commercial activity tax, but the petroleum activity tax, financial institutions tax and the income tax. All of the estimates, though done separately, are combined in this tax expenditure so as not to be repetitive.

Introduction

While this report provides totals summing the expenditures, the totals do not represent the revenue that would be gained by the GRF from repealing all tax expenditures simultaneously.

To summarize, the figures in this report do not represent the estimated revenue gain from repeal of the tax expenditure. Instead, the figures reflect reasonable estimates of the tax benefits realized by recipients of the tax expenditures – what has been referred to as the “revenue foregone.”

Data Sources for Tax Expenditure Estimates

The accuracy of the estimates varies with the source of data and applicability of the data to the tax expenditure provision. In some instances, the Department of Taxation relies on external sources of data that may not be as reliable as those from the agency. A data reference code has been devised to identify the source for individual tax expenditures, as follows:

Data Source Code (A):	Data emanating from tax returns filed with the Department of Taxation, as well as other information generated by the Department of Taxation.
Data Source Code (B):	Data produced by government agencies other than the Department of Taxation, such as other State of Ohio agencies, the federal government (e.g., the Internal Revenue Service and the U.S. Census Bureau), other state governments, and Ohio’s local governments.
Data Source Code (C):	All other data, including (but not limited to) information from business information service providers, academic research, and non-profit research organizations.

Sales and Use Tax

Sales and Use Tax

The sales and use tax became law in 1934 at a rate of 3 percent and began to be levied on January 27, 1935. In 1967, the rate was increased to 4 percent. After a temporary 5 percent sales tax rate was imposed during the period of January through June of 1981, a permanent 5 percent rate was adopted in November 1981. Until 1981, the sales and use tax was restricted to the sale or rental of tangible personal property. In November 1981, the tax base was extended to selected services. Since then, additional services have been made subject to sales and use tax. Authority to levy a permissive sales tax was given to counties in 1967 and transit authorities in 1974.

In 2003, legislation was enacted to impose a temporary increase in the state sales tax rate from 5 percent to 6 percent. This increase was in effect for the July 1, 2003 through June 30, 2005 period. Rather than allowing the rate to revert back to 5 percent once the temporary increase expired, Am. Sub. House Bill 66 (126th General Assembly; FY 2006-2007 operating budget) set the rate at 5.5 percent, effective July 1, 2005. Am. Sub. House Bill 59 (130th General Assembly; FY 2014-2015 operating budget) increased the state sales tax rate to 5.75 percent effective September 1, 2013. The estimates given in this report account for the two rates for FY 2014.

Tax Base

The sale and rental of tangible personal property and statutorily enumerated services in Ohio (or of property and selected services purchased out-of-state but used in Ohio) constitute the Ohio sales and use tax base. The tax base reflects a complex amalgam of statutory and constitutional provisions, as well as the accumulation of administrative and case law interpretations.

Since its 1935 inception, the sales and use tax structure has reflected a variety of exceptions, exemptions, and credits. This report omits some of these exceptions, exemptions, and credits because they are considered to be baseline features of the sales and use tax. For instance, certain sales and use tax exceptions have been excluded that conform the sales and use tax more closely to the concept of a tax on final consumption. One feature that helps limit the sales and use tax to final consumption – thereby mitigating the economic distortions otherwise created by “pyramiding” (a phenomenon that occurs when the same activity or final product is taxed more than once as it moves through the economic production chain) – is the resale exception.¹³ The resale exception applies to purchased items that are subsequently resold by the purchaser in the same form (typically to a final consumer). This exception is elemental to a sales and use tax such that it is not considered a tax preference and therefore does not appear as a tax expenditure in this report.

The report does not include a credit for sales tax paid to other states. When an item is purchased in another state and sales tax is paid to such state, Ohio law typically allows a credit for the tax paid to that state (although if the tax paid to the other state is lower than what the tax would be under Ohio law, the purchaser must pay the difference to Ohio).¹⁴ Such a credit is a baseline feature of the sales and use tax, and therefore is not considered a tax expenditure.

Another item excluded from the report is the exemption for “casual sales.”¹⁵ The report reflects the assumption that the sales tax was inherently designed not to tax the kinds of transactions subject to the casual sales exemption. Transactions covered by the casual sales exemption are those involving the sale of an item by a person that had originally acquired the item for the person’s own use, as long as the item had already been subject to a state sales or use tax.¹⁶

Other exceptions considered inherent to the sales and use tax – and therefore not appearing as tax expenditures in this report – are those sanctioned by the Ohio Constitution. One such exception pertains to food sold for human consumption.¹⁷ The Ohio Constitution precludes the imposition of a sales tax on food (including prepared food)

¹⁴ Ohio Revised Code § 5741.02(C)(5) (2014).

¹⁵ Ohio Revised Code § 5739.02(B)(8) (2014).

¹⁶ Sales of motor vehicles and other specified types of vehicles are not subject to the casual sales exemption. Ohio Revised Code § 5739.02(B)(8) (2014).

¹⁷ Ohio Revised Code § 5739.02(B)(2) (2014).

Sales and Use Tax

consumed off the premises where sold.¹⁸ Another such exception is for sales of motor fuel. Sales of fuel used by motor vehicles operated on public highways are not subject to sales tax because the Ohio Constitution requires any revenue generated from an excise tax on this product to be used for highway-related purposes and not be deposited in the GRF.¹⁹

Tax Rate

The tax is imposed by the State of Ohio at a 5.75 percent rate. In addition, a local permissive sales tax may be imposed by a county or transit authority at a rate between 0.25 percent and 1.5 percent (for each), with a maximum allowable combined permissive sales tax rate of 3 percent (the highest total permissive sales tax rate currently in effect is 2.25 percent, in Cuyahoga County). Local permissive sales taxes are not reflected in the figures provided in this report.

Significant Changes Enacted by the 130th General Assembly

Three sales tax law changes were enacted during the last two years related to tax expenditures. Am. Sub. House Bill 59 (FY 2014-2015 operating budget) repealed the sales tax exemption for magazine subscriptions but maintained the exemption for controlled circulation magazines. This bill also created an exemption for sales to certain non-profit organizations and for sales of cable, video and audio/visual works bought or sold by cable or video service providers.

Sales and Use Tax Expenditure Estimates

The estimates shown below reflect the estimated revenue foregone by the GRF from each tax expenditure. The text reflects the effect of “overlapping” provisions (i.e., another credit, exclusion, or exemption available to the taxpayer) that effectively reduce the revenue consequences associated with the tax expenditure. Figures are rounded to the nearest tenth.

These tax expenditure estimates rely mostly on secondary data sources rather than internal, Department of Taxation-originated data sources such as tax returns. Economic census data – generated by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census – is the most extensively-used source of data for the estimates. However, various other types of data and information are used in the estimates, including those generated by other non-Census Bureau federal agencies, by industry trade groups, and by academic, public, and not-for-profit research organizations.

NOTE: See page 4 for description of data source codes.

A. Exempt entities

1.01 Sales to churches and certain other non-profit organizations

Ohio Revised Code 5739.02(B)(12); originally enacted 1935; revised 2013

Sales to churches, non-profit entities organized under Internal Revenue Code section 501(c)(3), and certain other types of non-profit organizations are exempt from the sales and use tax.

²⁰ The estimate excludes estimated purchases by the State of Ohio because such purchases do not entail an appreciable state fiscal cost. The reason is currently-foregone sales tax revenue is offset by decreased costs on its acquisitions. Viewed from another perspective, if the exemption were repealed, the State of Ohio would experience an increase in expenditures nearly commensurate with the sales tax revenue gain.

Sales and Use Tax

1.06 Sales of tangible personal property and services to electricity providers

Ohio Revised Code 5739.02(B)(40); originally enacted 2000

1.12 Building and construction materials and services used in certain structures²³

Ohio Revised Code 5739.02(B)(13); originally enacted 1959, revised 1994

A sales and use tax exemption is provided for building and construction materials and services sold to construction contractors for incorporation into certain types of structures. The exemption applies to structures built under a construction contract with the following entities: federal government; the State of Ohio and its political subdivisions; religious institutions and other organizations exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code; businesses engaged in horticultural and livestock purposes; and certain other types of entities specified in state law.

²² This estimate was reduced by an assumed 50 percent under the expectation that most of this property is also subject to the sales tax exemptions for property used primarily in manufacturing (tax expenditure item 1.04) and for packaging and packaging equipment (tax expenditure item 1.05).

²³ The estimate excludes estimated purchases attributable to building contracts with the State of Ohio. This reflects the assumption that currently-foregone revenue from the exemption is offset by decreased project costs for state projects. Because the tax exemption creates no appreciable fiscal cost to the State of Ohio on its projects, those projects have been excluded from the estimate.

Individual Income Tax

Individual Income Tax

Ohio was first authorized to levy an income tax in 1912 by a constitutional amendment. However, 60 years elapsed before the first state individual income tax became effective in 1972. The income tax was designed to be closely based on federal law to facilitate compliance by the taxpayer and ease of administration by the state.

Tax Base

The tax base for the Ohio individual income tax is the amount reported as federal adjusted gross income (FAGI) to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service plus or minus adjustments according to Ohio income tax law.

Tax Rate

Ohio has a graduated income tax with nine rate classes. For taxable years (TY) beginning 2014 and thereafter, the tax rates range from 0.528 percent at the bottom income bracket to 5.333 percent at the top income bracket.

Annual indexing of the income tax brackets took effect in TY 2010. Ohio law requires annual adjustments to the individual income tax brackets based on the growth in the gross domestic product deflator during the preceding calendar year (although the calculated amounts are ultimately required to be rounded to the nearest $50). For example, in TY 2012, the bottom tax bracket ends at $5,050 of Ohio taxable income, compared to $5,000 during TY 2011; in TY 2012, the top income tax bracket begins at $201,800 of Ohio taxable income, compared to $200,000 in TY 2011. The changes to the brackets are calculated in July of each year and apply to the taxable year during which the changes are calculated.²⁵ The indexing of these brackets was temporarily suspended under Am. Sub. House Bill 59 (130th General Assembly; FY 2014-2015 operating budget) for TY 2013-2015.

Significant Changes Enacted by the 130th General Assembly

Am. Sub. House Bill 59 (FY 2014-2015 operating budget) made changes pertaining to several individual income tax expenditures effective for TY 2013 and thereafter. The bill repealed the deduction for gambling losses and the technology investment tax credit. In addition, the $20 personal exemption credit was modified to allow it for only those with Ohio taxable income of less than $30,000. The bill also extended the deduction for military retirement pay to the Commissioned Corps of the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration and the Public Health Service by permitting all “uniformed services” to claim the deduction. There was also a slight modification to the historic preservation tax credit.

The bill also enacted two new expenditures. It created a nonrefundable state earned income tax credit equal to 5 percent of the taxpayer’s allowed federal earned income tax credit subject to statutorily enumerated limitations. A new deduction was made available for small business investor income equal to 50 percent of the business income included in a taxpayer’s federal adjusted gross income (FAGI) and to the extent apportioned to Ohio. The deduction is limited to $125,000 per taxpayer per year, with the cap set at $62,500 for each spouse if filing separately.

Am. Sub. House Bill 483 increased the personal exemption amounts available to income taxpayers whose Ohio adjusted gross income (OAGI) is $80,000 or less, from $1,700 to either $2,200 or $1,950, depending on the taxpayer’s income. It also increased the Ohio earned income tax credit percentage from 5 to 10 percent of taxpayer’s federal credit, subject to existing limitations. These changes are effective for TY 2014 and thereafter. The bill temporarily increased the deduction for the small business investor income from 50 to 75 percent for TY 2014 only.

Sub. Senate Bill 250 modified the tax credit for a taxpayer’s legal adoption of a minor child to be the greater of $1,500 or the amount of expenses incurred for the adoption (not exceeding $10,000). Excess adoption tax credit may be carried forward for five taxable years, up from two. The new provisions are effective for TY 2014 and thereafter.

²⁵ Reductions in tax rates are not considered tax expenditures for purposes of this report. Similarly, alterations in tax brackets do not meet the operative definition of a tax expenditure, which is why the annual indexation of the individual income tax brackets is not included as an expenditure item in this report.

Individual Income Tax

Individual Income Tax Expenditure Estimates

The estimates shown below reflect the estimated revenue foregone by the GRF from each tax expenditure. In addition, the text reflects the effects of possible “overlapping” provisions (i.e., other credits, exemptions or deductions available to the taxpayer) that would also dampen the potential revenue gain of the repealed tax expenditure.

Various data sources were used to derive the tax expenditure estimates. Most of the tax expenditure estimates were based on information taken from individual income tax returns filed with the Department of Taxation. However, some of the estimates were derived from secondary data sources, such as the Internal Revenue Service, other state agencies and published public finance research.

NOTE: See page 4 for description of data source codes.

A. Exemptions, exclusions, and deductions

2.01 Personal, spousal, and dependent exemption

Ohio Revised Code 5747.025; originally enacted 1972, revised 2002 and 2013

An exemption may be claimed for the taxpayer, taxpayer’s spouse, and each dependent. The exemption’s indexing provision was suspended for TY 2013-2015 and the amount remained at $1,700 for those respective tax years. Beginning in TY 2014, the exemption became $2,200 for those with OAGI of $40,000 or less; $1,950 for those with OAGI from $40,000 to $80,000 and remained at $1,700 for taxpayers above $80,000 OAGI. When indexing resumes in TY 2016, the exemption is expected to increase by $50 for each level stated above.

Financial Institutions Tax

Financial Institutions Tax

The financial institutions tax (FIT) was enacted in 2012 by Am. Sub. House Bill 510 (129th General Assembly). This new tax replaces the corporate franchise tax and dealers in intangibles tax. It became effective in TY 2014 (based on activity occurring in TY 2013).

Tax Base and Tax Rate

The tax base is “total Ohio equity capital” of financial institutions. Total equity capital is comprised of all forms of equity, such as common stock, surplus, and retained earnings. (However, the equity of non-controlling minority interests in consolidated subsidiaries that are not financial institutions is not included.) An apportionment ratio is applied to total equity capital to derive total Ohio equity capital. The ratio reflects the proportion of taxpayer gross receipts that can be apportioned to Ohio.

The tax has a three-tier rate structure, as follows:

0.8 percent on the first $200 million of total Ohio equity capital;

0.4 percent on the next $1.1 billion of total Ohio equity capital (between $200 million and $1.3 billion); and

0.25 percent on the remaining total Ohio equity capital (above $1.3 billion).

FIT taxpayers are subject to a minimum tax of $1,000.

Financial Institutions Tax Expenditure Estimates

The estimates shown below reflect the estimated revenue foregone by the GRF from each tax expenditure. As mentioned in the Introduction section, many of the credits are included in other sections.²⁹

Commercial Activity Tax

Commercial Activity Tax

Established by Am. Sub. House Bill 66 (126th General Assembly; FY 2006-2007 operating budget) and made effective on July 1, 2005, the commercial activity tax (CAT) is a business privilege tax measured by gross receipts on business activities in this state. The tax was a central element in the tax reform package enacted by House Bill 66. The CAT now serves as Ohio's primary business tax, replacing both the tangible personal property tax and the corporate franchise tax.

Taxpayers

The CAT applies to business entities with taxable gross receipts of more than $150,000 per calendar year. The tax applies to most businesses above the $150,000 threshold, regardless of organizational form; sole proprietorships, partnerships, LLCs, and corporations are subject to the tax. Although the tax applies to most kinds of business entities, there are some notable exemptions. Non-profit entities are exempt from the tax. A limited number of other businesses, such as certain types of public utilities, insurance companies, financial institutions, and the affiliates of insurance companies and financial institutions, are also exempt from the tax since they are subject to an alternative tax. The CAT applies whether the business is based in this state or is located outside of this state as long as that business has "substantial nexus" with this state.

The tax is paid on an annual or quarterly basis. An annual minimum tax is due by May 10 of each year. The tiers for the minimum tax are shown in the table below. In addition, taxpayers with receipts above $1 million report and pay the tax on a quarterly basis, with the return and payment due by the 10th day of the second month following the end of the calendar quarter (e.g., taxes for the third quarter of 2014 were required to be paid by November 10, 2014).

Taxable Gross Receipts	Annual Minimum Tax
$1 million or less	$ 150
Greater than $1 million but less than or equal to $2 million	$ 800
More than $2 million but less than or equal to $4 million	$2,100
More than $4 million	$2,600

Tax Base

The CAT is measured by taxable gross receipts on business activities within the state, defined as the total amount realized, without deduction for the cost of goods sold or other expenses incurred, from activities that contribute to the production of gross income. Certain types of receipts are excluded from the definition of taxable gross receipts, including (but not limited to) cash discounts, certain types of interest, dividend, and capital gains income, income in the form of repayment principal of a loan, gifts or charitable contributions, and gross receipts relating to motor fuel.

Tax Rate

The CAT is levied at a rate of 0.26 percent on annual taxable gross receipts in excess of $1 million. Each taxpayer pays an annual minimum tax based upon its amount of taxable gross receipts as shown in the table above.

Definition of Commercial Activity Tax Expenditures

The following characteristics are designated as meeting the definition of a CAT tax expenditure: (1) any exclusion, deduction or credit not contained in Ohio Revised Code sections 5751.01 or 5751.011; or (2) any gross receipts exclusion or deduction contained in Ohio Revised Code sections 5751.01 or 5751.011 that benefits a specific class of taxpayers. In all cases, the exclusion, deduction, or credit must produce tax savings for taxpayers and an associated loss in GRF tax revenue in order to be considered a tax expenditure.

Significant Changes Enacted by the 130th General Assembly

Am. Sub. House Bill 59 (FY 2014-2015 operating budget) contained items that affected CAT tax expenditures. It created an exclusion from the definition of gross receipts for gross receipts derived from grain handling. The exclusion of receipts relating to motor fuel is not contained here as a CAT tax expenditure, as these receipts have become subject to the petroleum activity tax.³³ However, this change in taxation of the receipts relating to motor fuel did eliminate the CAT exclusion for exchanges of petroleum not involving monetary compensation.

Commercial Activity Tax Expenditure Estimates

This report reflects the estimated revenue foregone by the GRF from each tax expenditure. The estimates of these tax expenditures are based on various data sources. Some of the estimates use data reported to the Department of Taxation while other estimates were generated using secondary data sources, such as economic data reported by the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Public Utility Excise Tax

Public Utility Excise Tax

The public utility excise tax is levied on companies classified by statute as public utilities. Originally enacted in 1894, the present tax structure was established in 1911. Historically, electric, natural gas, and local telephone companies have accounted for the bulk of total public utility excise tax revenue collections. However, in 2001, electric and rural electric companies became subject to the kilowatt hour tax and electric companies also became subject to the corporate franchise tax (Am. Sub. Senate Bill 3, 123rd General Assembly), and these entities were no longer subject to the public utility excise tax. In 2005, telephone companies became subject to the corporate franchise tax, their services became subject to the sales and use tax, and they became exempt from the public utility excise tax through Am. Sub. House Bill 95 (125th General Assembly; FY 2004-2005 operating budget).

Tax Base

The public utility excise tax is applied to the gross receipts for natural gas, pipeline, heating, water transportation, and water works companies.³⁷ There is a minimum tax of $50 for each tax year.

Tax Rate

The tax rate for the public utility excise tax is 4.75 percent, except pipeline companies pay 6.75 percent.

Public Utility Excise Tax Expenditure Estimates

The estimates shown below reflect the estimated revenue foregone by the GRF from each tax expenditure. The report reflects the effect of a possible “overlapping” provision (i.e., another credit, exclusion, or exemption available to the taxpayer) that effectively reduces the revenue consequences associated with the tax expenditure.

Data used to estimate the expenditures are primarily from public utility excise tax returns filed with the Department of Taxation and other sources within the department. Data from the U.S. Census Bureau was also used to form a basis of some estimates.

Kilowatt Hour Tax

Kilowatt Hour Tax

Am. Sub. Senate Bill 3 (123rd General Assembly) restructured the electric industry in Ohio. Prior to this bill, electric companies had been subject to the public utility excise tax. They also were subject to higher assessment rates on their tangible personal property than general business taxpayers. Among other changes, the enactment removed electric companies from the public utility excise tax and instead levied the corporate franchise tax on these entities (which has since been repealed). The legislation also lowered the assessment rate on much of these entities' tangible personal property. To replace the lost revenue, this enactment created the kilowatt hour tax. This tax is levied on electric distribution companies and is measured by the end user's consumption of kilowatt hours of electricity. Qualifying large consumers of electricity may elect to self-assess the tax based on the amount of kilowatt hours of electricity consumed and a tax rate structure specific to only self-assessors. The kilowatt hour tax became effective in May 2001.

Tax Base

The tax base for the kilowatt hour tax is the amount of kilowatt hours distributed to the end consumer.

The tax base for the self-assessor option is the amount of kilowatt hours consumed.

Insurance Premium Taxes

Insurance Premium Taxes

The domestic insurance tax was created in 1830 with a 4 percent property tax on dividends paid by insurance companies. In 1933, the tax was changed to tax the lesser of 0.2 percent on capital and surplus or 1.67 percent of gross premiums. The franchise tax rate on gross premiums increased to 2.5 percent in 1971. The tax rate on capital and surplus increased to 0.6 percent in 1981.

The foreign insurance tax was created in 1830, with a 4 percent property tax on profits from premiums. In 1852, the value of gross premiums (rather than profits from premiums) was subject to the tax. In 1888, a supplemental tax was levied on gross premiums, and when added to the property tax, it produced an effective tax rate of 2.5 percent on gross premiums. A direct 2.5 percent gross premiums tax was created in 1902.

Am. Sub. House Bill 215 (122nd General Assembly) made numerous changes to the domestic and foreign insurance taxes, including changes to the rates and bases of the two taxes. These changes were fully phased in by TY 2003, at which time the two taxes shared the same gross premium tax base and tax rate (1.4 percent). The bill also established a small insurers tax credit, along with a minimum tax of $250.

Tax Base

The tax base for domestic and foreign insurers is the gross amount of premiums covering risks in Ohio, less specified deductions.

Tax Rate

Domestic and foreign insurers are taxed at 1.4 percent of gross premiums. Foreign insurers are also subject to retaliatory provisions. Fire insurance is subject to an additional 0.75 percent tax on gross premiums. Instead of the 1.4 percent tax rate, a 1 percent tax rate is applied to health insurance corporations.

Insurance Premium Tax Expenditure Estimates

The estimates shown below reflect the estimated revenue foregone by the GRF from each tax expenditure. Data for these tax expenditures are obtained from the Ohio Department of Insurance and the Ohio Life and Health Guaranty Association. Assistance was also provided by these organizations regarding the projected growth of these tax expenditures.

7.02 Credit for small insurers

Ohio Revised Code 5729.031; originally enacted 1999

A foreign or domestic insurance company or insurance company group, with less than $75 million in premiums sold in all states by the company or group, may take a tax credit of up to a maximum of $200,000 against its foreign or domestic insurance premium tax liability. The credit is based on the ratio derived by dividing the company's or group's premiums sold in all states by $75 million. This ratio is multiplied by $200,000 to yield the tax credit amount.

7.03 Ohio Life and Health Guaranty Association contribution credit

Ohio Revised Code 3956.20; originally enacted 1989

Members of the Ohio Life and Health and Guaranty Association make contributions to a fund used to pay Ohioans with insurance policies held by bankrupt companies. Members are able to use their contribution as a credit on the state franchise or premium tax return. Each year's credit equals 20 percent of the contributed amount. The contribution credit may be claimed over five years. Therefore, by the end of the five-year period, the total cumulative credit received by the taxpayer equals the full amount it had contributed to the fund.

Cigarette and Other Tobacco Products Taxes

Cigarette and Other Tobacco Products Taxes

The excise tax on cigarettes was first levied in 1931. The tax rate ranged from its original 2 cents per pack to 15 cents in 1971. The rate was reduced to 14 cents per pack in 1981 and cigarette sales became subject to the sales and use tax. The rate was increased to 24 cents per pack in January, 1993. It was increased to 55 cents per pack on July 1, 2002. The current rate of $1.25 per pack became effective July 1, 2005.

The excise tax on other tobacco products was levied beginning in February of 1993. The current rate is 17 percent of the wholesale price, except for little cigars. Am. Sub. House Bill 59 (130th General Assembly; FY 2014-2015 operating budget) increased the tax rate for little cigars to 37 percent effective October 1, 2013.

Tax Base

The cigarette tax applies to the sale, use, consumption, or storage of cigarettes in Ohio. The excise tax on other tobacco products applies to the receipt or import of other tobacco products for resale. Other tobacco products include cigars, chewing tobacco, rolling tobacco, smoking tobacco, snuff, little cigars, and other tobacco products.

Tax Rate

The cigarette tax rate is 6.25 cents per cigarette ($1.25 per pack of 20 cigarettes). The other tobacco products tax rate is 17 percent on the wholesale price of other tobacco products, except for little cigars which are taxed at 37 percent.

Cigarette and Other Tobacco Products Tax Expenditure Estimates

The estimates shown below reflect the estimated revenue foregone by the GRF from each tax expenditure and are based primarily on data from tax returns filed with the Department of Taxation.

8.01 Discount for cigarette tax stamps

Ohio Revised Code 5743.05; originally enacted 1934, revised 2006

Cigarette excise taxpayers are eligible to receive a discount when purchasing cigarette excise tax stamps or meter impressions as a commission for affixing and canceling the stamps or meter impressions. The value of this discount shall not be less than 1.8 percent or more than 10 percent of the face value of the tax stamps and meter impressions, with the exact rate set by rule. Under the current rule, the rate of this discount is 1.8 percent. Cigarette excise taxpayers shall not receive this tax stamp discount on payments made when filing a monthly or semi-monthly return.

Alcoholic Beverage Tax

Alcoholic Beverage Tax

In 1933, the year prohibition was repealed, the Department of Liquor Control was created and the General Assembly enacted tax levies on beer, wine, and other non-spirituous beverages. A liquor gallonage tax was added a year later. As of July 1, 1997, the Department of Liquor Control was changed to a division and was transferred to the Department of Commerce. The Division of Liquor Control administers the liquor gallonage tax. The Department of Taxation administers the tax on all other alcoholic beverages.

Tax Base

Sales by volume of the following non-spirituous beverages: beer, wine, mixed beverages, and cider.

Tax Rates

Beer
Barrel (31 gallons)	$5.58
Containers over 12 ounces	0.84 cents per six ounces
Containers 12 ounces or less	0.14 cents per ounce

A. Credits

9.01 Advanced payment credit/discount Ohio Revised Code 4303.33; originally enacted 1963

Beer permit holders are eligible to receive a 3 percent credit on advance payments made on or before the 18th of the month for which the tax is paid. In addition, a discount is offered on the balance of the tax due (after the advanced payment) if received by the 10th day of the following month. This additional discount is the lesser of 0.3 percent of the advanced payment or 3 percent of the net amount of tax due after deduction of the advanced payment. Wine and mixed beverage permit holders are eligible to receive a 3 percent credit on payments made on or before the 18th day of the month for the previous month's tax liability.
